

A Level Media Summer Work

Lucasade, Lucasade Sport and the Aco Device are registered trade marks of the GlaxoSmithKline group of companies.

IN A DIFFERENT LEAGUE

NAME:	GARETH BALE
DOB:	16/07/1989
HEIGHT:	1.85M
TEAM:	REAL MADRID & WALES

Lucasade
YES

SCIENTIFICALLY PROVEN

Lucasade Sport
ISOTONIC
PERFORMANCE
FUEL
ORANGE

Media language deconstruction &
theoretical essay

Wyke Sixth Form College

Lucozade, Lucozade Sport and the Pac Device are registered trade marks of the GlaxoSmithKline group of companies.

NAME:	GARETH BALE
DATE:	16/07/1989
HEIGHT:	1.85M
TEAM:	REAL MADRID & WALES

IN A DIFFERENT LEAGUE

YES

SCIENTIFICALLY PROVEN

Task 1: Textual Analysis

Using the skills, you have learnt from your lessons at Wyke Start, complete a full textual analysis of the Lucozade advert provided on page 2 in preparation to answer the essay question below.

Task 2: written essay applying theory

How does the Lucozade advert use media language to promote energy drinks? Construct a textual analysis applying PEE in your answer. [10]

Refer to colour, typography/text choice, use of Gareth Bale, graphics, the product, copy (what is the text says)

Try to refer to:

Barthes Semiotics (so you must use the terms: denotation/denotes and connotation/connotes)

Hall's Reception Theory (dominant reading, negotiated reading, oppositional reading)

(500 words minimum)

